

PETITION TO COUNCILMEN

Asking More Street Improvement. Was Received At Thursday Evening's Meeting.

SOME IMPORTANT MATTERS

Were Given Consideration.—Proposed Police Alarm System.—Night Duty For Byrne.

The city council met last night with Buse and Taskey absent. It was the time set for property owners on North Chestnut street to appear if they desired and object to improvement of two blocks in that street. No one appeared and a resolution presented by Davison confirming the preliminary resolution and ordering the improvement was passed. The clerk was ordered to advertise for bids. The work must be begun by May 1 and be completed by October 1.

A resolution providing for the permanent improvement of alley in the rear of the interurban station between Ewing street and Indianapolis avenue, as petitioned for recently, was passed. A petition that brick be used in the improvement was referred to the Board of Works.

In view of the coming improvement of North Chestnut street Davison introduced an ordinance which requires that property owners on that street must make connections with water and gas pipes and sewer, and lay surface pipes to curb, the work to be done within thirty days by property owners or it shall be done by city and charged to property owners. Ordered that ordinance take regular course.

Sherman Day presented a petition for the permanent improvement of Ewing street from the B. & O. to Seventh street. It was signed by W. L. Johnson, F. P. Adams, Charles A. Walters, George Heintz, J. M. Brown, C. H. Hustedt, Fred Able, Michael Huber, J. M. Hamer, Georgia Hopewell, L. W. Jones and Mrs. Lena Lauster. Referred to Board of Works.

Proposals relating to the police telephone system proposed were received. The telephone company agreed to put in 25 telephones in the business section for one year and to operate them for 50 cents each per month, to check station calls from 10 p. m. to 5 a. m., and maintain same for $30 per month. An agreement in connection with this was submitted by the Merchants Association agreeing to pay $12.50 per month of the $42.50 monthly charge for the service. Referred to the Board of Safety.

Misch, Hodapp and Davison were appointed to consider advisability of placing light in alley south of Second street between Chestnut and Indianapolis avenue.

A committee was named to investigate damaging of trees on High street in moving of house.

Samuel Nicholson was awarded contract for collecting garbage. His bid was $59 per month. George Story and Gilbert Chasteen each bid $60 per month.

Ordered that Officer L. P. Byrne be assigned to the night force and Isaac Burrell, special officer, assist the marshal.

PLEASED HIS AUDIENCE Entertainment By Young Men's Class of M. E. Church A Success.

Mr. Arthur J. Beriault, who was at the First M. E. Church Thursday evening, delighted his audience with his dramatic readings. There was a good crowd present and without exception the expressions made were very hearty and enthusiastic for Mr. Beriault's work. This is the first of a series of evenings which the Young Men's Class of the M. E. church propose to give and is greatly to their credit they began with so successful a program as that of last evening. The readings were interspersed with musical numbers rendered by Miss Frieda Aufderheide, Leland Bridges, Mrs. W. P. Masters and Mrs. W. G. Reynolds. The Young Men's Class appreciate the attendance and the interest which was plainly shown by the audience present and those who were present look forward to future numbers with pleasant anticipations.

ARRESTED AND FINED On Charge of Securing Goods Under False Name.

Thursday evening the officers arrested Grover Digs at the home of a relative northeast of the city. Sometime ago according to the charge against him he secured some clothing on credit at Paul Marcus' store on the representation that his name was George Beyers, charging them to well known people. The fine and costs assessed by Justice Congdon amounted to $16 which he paid; he also settled for the goods he secured.

Notice! We are sorry that we have been unable to enroll all who desired to enter our night school, the crowded conditions making it impossible. We are going to put on an additional teacher March 1st, and will be able to take care of six or eight more students. There is room in our day school for three additional students at the present time.

W. H. Bower of Kurtz was in Seymour Thursday evening enroute home from a business trip to Louisville. Mr. Bower has for some time past been interested with two nephews in Kentucky timber lands and have sawed the timber from several leased tracts. They have now purchased 160 acres of timber land near Stuttgart, Ark., and have moved their saw mill there. The nephews will continue to have charge of the work.

Charity Market. There will be a market given by the charity board, next Saturday, Feb. 17, in the Seymour Public Service Company's rooms on South Chestnut street. Since the winter has been so severe and as there are several sick families to be taken care of, we are compelled to have more funds—hence the market. We hope everyone will patronize our market. It means little to you, but so much to some one who is out of coal and fuel. Market will be open at 1:00 p. m. The following articles will be on sale: fresh bread, coffee cake, rolls, doughnuts, dressed chicken, baked beans, hominy, cake and cookies. f16d

The little folks were amused in various ways and had a pleasant afternoon. Those present were, Glenn Harrell Seward, Charles Edwin Mains, Mary Virginia Swails, Donald Hopewell Catt, Fulton Reynolds Meyer, Mary Elizabeth Frazier and George Edward Mercer. The mothers of the children and Emerson Seward, Francis and Helen Mercer were also guests. A two course luncheon was served.

The property owners who started to circulate a petition to be presented to the council asking that asphalt macadam be designated as the material for use in the North Chestnut street improvement have ceased their work and dropped the matter although quite a number of the interested owners had already signed the petition. This material was not designated in the list enumerated in the advertisement for bids and as a consequence it could not be selected under the bid. Cement concrete which was petitioned for originally will probably be used.

At a meeting of the Women's Relief Corps Thursday afternoon, Mrs. John L. Kessler was elected president for the year 1912 to succeed Mrs. W. J. THE NOBLEMAN OF CAPERNAUM Subject of the Sermon at the German M. E. Church Thursday night.

The meetings at the German M. E. church are growing in interest. Rev. Mr. Brueckner preached a strong sermon Thursday night based on the story of the Nobleman at Capernaum. This nobleman was in manner and demeanor a man of the world, with the surroundings of the wicked king Herod. He also lived in the town where Jesus lived and heard and took note of the miracles Jesus performed, but ignored entirely Jesus as the Savior, and kept drifting down deeper and deeper into sin.

The nobleman evidently believed that the things he heard about Jesus were true, having just HEARSAY FAITH. The minister pointed out very definitely that many people today have only HEARSAY FAITH.

The next step brought out was that while this man was deep down in sin, God strikes into his heart, his son becoming suddenly sick unto death. This brought the nobleman to inquire for the miraculous Jesus, and thereby gets the SEEKING FAITH.

After pleading with Jesus to have Him go with him to heal the child, Jesus tests the nobleman's faith and tells him that his son liveth, at which this man shows his RELYING FAITH.

Upon returning home he experiences that his son is well and then has the ASSURED FAITH.

The minister went on to show that these four steps is the career sinners must take place in order to find Christ as their personal Savior. Upon hearing the word of God and not doubting it he has the HEARSAY FAITH; upon seeking Christ it develops into SEEKING FAITH; after trusting the Master's promise he has the RELYING FAITH; and after experiencing salvation he has the ASSURED FAITH.

The attendance and interest at these meetings are excellent, the church being filled each evening with people anxious to hear the Gospel story.

STOOD WINTER WELL Game Commissioner Thinks Few Quails Have Been Lost.

After a personal visit to several points in the state, Game Commissioner Miles said:

"I don't believe we've lost a great many quail, even though the weather has been unusually severe for a long period of time. Probably a few have frozen to death, but in the majority of the districts in the state where the birds were in places that were at all accessible the keepers of the game preserves, the farmers and my deputies have fed them and kept them fat and unliable to death from freezing. The hunters' license bring in the revenue to the state's protective department for fish and game. Otherwise the department could not be self-sustaining and such directions as to state-wide care of quail as have been sent out by the department recently would not be forthcoming, the commissioner argues. He said he is very much opposed to the proposition of those interested in obtaining a five-year closed season statute for those reasons."

REPLEVIN SUIT Parties Involved Well Known in Seymour.

In the replevin suit filed by the Rev. William Chapple against his daughter, Miss Ethel Chapple, which was tried in Justice Kinney's court Wednesday afternoon, the court decided both for the plaintiff and defendant, in that he gave some of the disputed property to the plaintiff and some to the defendant. The plaintiff was given a table, two rocking chairs and three smoothing irons, while the defendant was given a sewing machine, a drugget, some dishes and other kitchen utensils.

The plaintiff testified that he loaned the drugget, sewing machine, etc., to his daughter that she and her sisters might furnish living rooms, while the defendant and other witnesses testified that the sewing machine was given to Misses Ethel and Clara Chapple by their father. The costs in the case are to be paid by both the plaintiff and the defendant.—Columbus Republican.

Rev. Mr. Chapple and Miss Ethel Chapple are both well known here. He has preached often at the Christian church and Miss Chapple has frequently visited friends in this city.

AS SPECIAL JUDGE Frank S. Jones Made Strong Impression at Greensburg.

Frank S. Jones, a former Seymour attorney who is now located at Columbus acted as special judge in a trial at Greensburg a few days ago and seemed to have impressed the natives over there deeply. The Greensburg News said:

A "Layman," who witnessed a part of the final proceedings in the Smiley-Minor case, cards the News to compliment the presiding judge. It affords us pleasure to give space to the correspondence, as Frank S. Jones, the presiding judge, is an old friend of the writer, and it is with pride that we have witnessed his growth from a law student to that of a real lawyer, with a bright legal mind."

Then appeared the "Layman's" card as follows:

Editor News:—The rather famous case of Smiley-Minor drew me to the court room the past week. Being a stranger to the parties I had no interest in the facts as bandied to and fro, but I became interested in the many novel law questions involved. They were unusual and out of the ordinary compared with those arising in the average suit. Accordingly I listened to the opinion as given by Judge Frank S. Jones, with interest. It certainly was a clear, logical, scholarly and judicial presentation of the law. His discriminations and applications of the court decisions as applied to the case showed a fine legal mind, strengthened and trained by close and laborious study. Judge Jones possesses the elements that would well grace and strengthen the bench. Layman.

Will Jesus Come Again?

What Is the Meaning of the World's Unrest?

This will be Evangelist Watkin's subject tonight. This is a period when as nations, as communities, and as individuals there is general unrest. Mr. Watkin's sermon tonight will deal with this condition.

The theme last night, "What of the Dead?" was very ably and scripturally handled. Text: "Today shalt thou be with me in Paradise," Jesus' words to the repentant thief on the cross. Paradise is where Jesus is, in Heaven. When the regenerated believer dies, his soul goes to Paradise at once. His body goes to the grave until Jesus raises it to life. The raised body is a spiritual body like that with which Jesus was raised and in which He ascended to heaven to be with God. We are to be like Him in that day. The scripture used taught clearly that we shall be raised from the dead. No room for doubt is left in God's word. God says so, That is final.

There were two confessions at the close of the sermon last night.

You are invited to come again tonight. Hear the Gospel preached clearly and forcefully by Evangelist Watkins, and hear the Gospel singing led by the big chorus choir.

Man's Appeal to Himself

By Rev. J. H. Ralston, Secretary Correspondence Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT.—My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from Him.—Is. 62: 5.

These were the words of a man of affairs, one who had attained the highest position within reach, and that not by heredity or chance, but by the force of his qualities; yet withal a man very human, a man who knew the depths of sin as well as the heights of intimate communion with God—and this man called on his soul to wait upon God.

The psalmist recognized within himself something to which many are very indifferent—a soul that related him to God, and differentiated him from the brute creation. Whether that which he recognized was in itself immortal or only contained the possibility of immortality need not interest us now, but it was another self, an alter ego, what some might call the subliminal self, and which has in those who have lived a life of purposeful sin, been stifled, and yet cries out constantly for recognition, and nourishment, and ultimate perfection.

It is not the imbecile who thinks of his soul, but it is the man who recognizes his true humanity, if you please; as in this case, oftentimes the man of affairs, of parts, of high ambitions. And this man is frequently quite out of patience with those who profess to be physicians of the soul and yet prescribe little or nothing that benefits the soul.

Great statesmen, financiers, railroad magnates, inventors, artists, manufacturers, etc., when they go to church, want soul food, something to which the soul responds. A leading lawyer recently said with reference to the message that should be given from the pulpit: "It should come from God, and should relate to the inner life, it should be food for the soul."

The call was not to something indefinite: "Wait thou only upon God." Here is the recognition of the correlative to the soul, the spiritual God. This recognition was not of an abstract idea, but of a personality—it gave no opportunity for quibbling and doubting. There was no suggestion in any little "if." This man of affairs and great parts was not the only historical character who has thus thought and acted. Some men may be like Job and ask where they may find God, but many others have had direct and constant intercourse with the spiritual God, they have seen him who is invisible.

Can this not be said of our three martyr presidents? Of Gladstone, of Bismarck, of William of Germany, of Justice Harlan? And as we glance back over the past do we not have Chinese Gordon, Stonewall Jackson, Oliver Cromwell, Gustavus Adolphus, Savonarola, Paul, David, Moses, Abraham and a host of others? Granting that these men waited on God, for so they all professed, their achievements are not an enigma.

What is it to wait on God? Is it not keeping silence before him? "Let all the earth keep silence before him." And such silence before God is an essential element of prayer. One has recently said that prayer is not the claiming a hearing, it is giving a hearing; it is not speaking to God, it is listening to God. It is true that "Whatever is best for me, my God will bring to me."

If I do only wait, and trust, and pray, What'er seems dark to me, shall end in light for me.

"Tis but the gloaming, which fore-runs the day."

This waiting before God, too, suggests a readiness to respond to the call of God as the old retainers would respond to the call of their liege lords. And was there ever a period of the history of the race when the likelihood of a call was as great? The world is open to men spirit-filled to go to the thousand million human beings who as yet do not know the true God.

Another suggestion is that of tarrying. How impatient we are! A man must make his first millions in ten years of business. Ten more millions must be made in the next five years. Who now toils for the slow increase on an investment, except the man who lacks the speed of action of today's trading? And this is largely true of christian work—we will not work to the limit and be patient as long as the fruits do not fall into our laps in great quantities. And how impatient we are in trial! We will not wait until God gets through his process of realizing for us our best, until the purifying fire has burned away our dross. And this waiting on God would not be honoring to him unless our waiting was with confident expectation. The soul of David would never have received a blessing if he had waited before God indulging a perhaps.

What must be the effect of nagging such a boy?

Under his jacket are keen sensibilities. He hides them under a mantle of rough exterior. Constant warfare on the part of his household frets and hurts him to the core of his being.

In order to "get even" he is likely to go wrong.

There is a better way. Be gentle with the kid. You may be able to lead him, but you cannot drive him—successfully. If you do force him you will get only sullen obedience from him—and inward hostility.

Appeal to his sense of manliness. He has a lot of it in him. He will gratefully respond.

Give him a task to do or an errand. Make him tired. That will take the whoop out of him.

And when he does a job, and does it well, thank him. That warms his heart.

BITS OF FACT.

France has four classes of roads. They are respectively 50, 40, 33 and 25 feet wide.

Judges and lawyers show a larger proportion of bald heads than any other profession.

Owing to labor disputes in the United Kingdom during the last year workmen lost time amounting in all to 9,722,800 days.

The water supply of Paris is insufficient and it may be necessary to go to Lake Geneva, in Switzerland, for a desirable source. The project will cost $90,000,000.

After ten years' controversy it has been decided in France that the industry of gathering old corks and making use of them a second time is not detrimental to public health.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THAT BOY.

"A boy should be kept in a barrel and fed through the bung hole until he is twenty-one years of age."

Thus Mark Twain.

Which, of course, was an exaggeration for the sake of humor.

A boy is a boy. He always will be a boy until he is a man. He cannot help being a boy all the time and everywhere. You can't put a man's head on his shoulders.

Oh, I know! He comes home from school, drives in the front door like a catapult, raises an Indian warwhoop, throws his books on a chair and his cap in a corner and dives into the depths of a couch.

Whew!

How the protests fly: "Don't." "Don't yell so." "Don't crush the cushions." "Don't come in with such dirty shoes." "Don't be so careless with your cap." "Don't—don't—don't!"

Whereat the boy, who has come home heartful of boisterous gladness, is disappointed. He grows sullen and savage. Slamming the door behind him, he goes out with a grievance against his home folks—to the street, where he finds better company.

The boy is rough and clamorous. He is built that way on purpose. If he is to be a man he must be full of vitality—with a vent.

The boy prides himself on his roughness. It is his natural mode of expressing himself. What seem to you to be faults seem to him virtues. The only way, for instance, the boy knows how to show his love for his sister is to tease her, though he would die for her.

THOUGHTS are real forces—living messengers of power. Love thoughts, even when brought to bear upon our pains and trials, transform them and make them educational.

—Henry Woods.

DISHES FOR PAPER BAG COOKERY.

Hitherto the vegetables of the ordinary cook have been a byword for all that is "flat, stale and unprofitable," and so they have been robbed of the prestige which their food value entitles them.

The mineral matter, salts and flavors are boiled out in the water and thrown away, the valuable constituents which are so necessary in the blood.

Now in cooking vegetables in bags nothing is lost.

The cooking is easier, no odor to penetrate the house, and the result is a tasty, well-flavored dish. As the evaporation is less in the closely confined bag, it is not necessary to add as much water when cooking.

A pint of green peas and a cup of water with a head of lettuce, a teaspoonful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter; mix together and place in a bag and cook for thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Potatoes, peel, halve and put sufficient for the family into a bag with a few tablespoonfuls of water, a leaf of mint and a little salt. Cook from thirty to forty minutes.

Spinach is washed and put into the bag without further water for cooking. Cook thirty to forty minutes and place the bag in a dish into which drain off the juice by piercing with a fork.

Cutlets.—Take a teaspoonful of salted flour, mix with it two tablespoonfuls of curry powder, grease a bag very thoroughly. Have ready a few cutlets, dust them with flour, put into the bag with a tablespoonful of minced onion and a cup of chicken stock, which may be made from the bones of a roasted fowl. Fold and seal the bag and cook for forty-five minutes. Dish up on a hot platter and pour the sauce over the cutlets.

Nellie Maxwell.

THIS KIDNEY REMEDY GIVES IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

In 1907 and 1908, I was taken very sick with kidney trouble and being afraid of Bright's Disease, went to a prominent physician at Libertyville, Iowa. After doctoring for some time without cure or benefit, I began the use of Swamp-Root and found immediate relief, which urged me to continue the use of the medicine.

After taking several bottles which I bought at Jericho's Drug Store, in Fairfield, Iowa, I became a well man and can honestly say that I have never had any signs of Bright's Disease or a return of any kidney trouble.

Yours very truly,
MACE CLINKINBEARD,
Fairfield, Iowa.
State of Iowa, Jefferson County, ss.
Subscribed and sworn to before me by the said Mace Clinkinbeard, and the signature acknowledged by him to be genuine, this 12th day of July, 1909.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agents, Andrews Drug Co.

COLD IN THE HEAD AND CATARRHENDED

Ely's Cream Balm Clears the Head Instantly, Cures Catarrh and Bad Breath.

You men and women who are troubled with cold in the head, catarrh, catarrhal headaches and deafness, head noises, stuffed up feeling in the head, frequent sneezing spells, sore throat and asthma, should try Ely's Cream Balm. It will give you immediate relief and in a short time effect a complete cure.

This cleansing, healing remedy acts directly on the sensitive, inflamed membranes. It clears the head at once, opens the air passages, and restores the sense of taste, smell and hearing.

Ely's Cream Balm is a sure cure for cold in the head and catarrh, because, by applying it to the nostrils, the fevered, swollen tissues are reached at once. One 50 cent bottle will generally cure the worst case of catarrh. It is perfectly harmless and is fine for children in case of colds or croup.

THOMAS W. BROLLEY

State Statistician Preparing Report on County Tax Levies.

ANNUAL REPORTS ON COUNTY TAX LEVIES
Figures Submitted to the State Statistician.

Indianapolis, Feb. 16.—Of the ninety-two counties of the state, thirty-nine increased their county levies last September over the levies made the year before, as shown by the annual reports to Thomas W. Brolley, chief of the state bureau of statistics, from county auditors, concerning county tax levies. Thirty-four decreased their levies and nineteen made no change. The levies reported are for county purposes only and do not include the state, township, city and town levies, which are made separately. The levies for 1912, just reported, are those on which taxes will be paid this year.

Of the counties making increases, nine increased their levies more than 10 cents on the $100 taxable. These counties and the amounts of increase were as follows: Porter, 34 cents; Huntington, 26 cents; Clay, 17 cents; Jay, 15.5 cents; Daviess and Jennings, 15 cents each; Dubois, 12 cents; Franklin, 11.85 cents; Elkhart, 11 cents.

Seven counties made decreases of 10 cents or more. They were as follows: Scott, 29 cents; Hamilton, 19 cents; Clark and Lawrence, 16 cents each; Pulaski, 11 cents; Pike and Wells, 10 cents each.

Jennings and Spencer counties reported the highest rates, each levying 97.15 cents. Ohio and Switzerland counties were next, each levying 93.15 cents. No other counties levied as high as 90 cents. Benton county, with a levy of 19.15 cents, had the lowest rate reported.

CHURCH THIEF

Goes Through the Pockets of Women's Coats During Banquet.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 16.—Not less than twelve well-known society women were robbed of their purses while attending the banquet at Trinity M. E. church. The occasion was the annual dinner of the Tri-U Bible class, which has a membership of eighty-five married and unmarried women. When the women went to the cloak room after the dinner, they discovered their loss. The purses had been taken from cloak pockets and the money taken from the purses, which were thrown on the floor. Some women lost as much as $15. Many of them were obliged to borrow money to pay their carfare.

Sunday School Lesson

FEBRUARY 18, 1912.

MINISTRY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST. Mark 1: 1-8; Luke 3: 1-20

GOLDEN TEXT.—Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. —Matt. 3: 2.

The first two verses of our lesson introduce us to seven men who were, in a certain sense, great men, but only one was truly great. Caesar, Pilate, Herod and Philip were great in the eyes of the world of politics as earth rulers. Annas and Caiaphas as high priests were great in the eyes of the religious people, but only of John could it be truly said "great in the eyes of the Lord." "not a greater prophet than John the Baptist" (Luke i. 15; vii. 28). He was also filled with the Holy Spirit from his birth, so he must have spent his time in the wilderness with God in a very special way.

We read seven times in Num. iv that the priests began their ministry when about thirty years of age, so we judge from verse 23 of our lesson chapter that John, as well as Jesus, began their public ministry at that age. He knew when to come forth and begin because "the word of God came unto him." So the word of the Lord came unto him in whose spirit and power he went forth (1 Kings xvii. 2, 8). From Gen. xv. 1, where we read that "the word of the Lord came unto Abram," how many times we find this statement and how much it means of definite commission from heaven. How very strong it is in Ezek. i. 3, where we read, "The word of the Lord came expressly unto Ezekiel, the priest." Unless we each for ourselves hear His voice in His word His book is not to us what it might be. This gospel may be said to begin and end with "repentance and remission of sins" (verse 3; i. 7; xxiv. 47). The gospel that does not proclaim the remission of sins by the blood of Jesus is not the gospel of the grace of God, but a perversion of the gospel of Christ (Gal. i. 6, 7). Every truly penitent soul, having received the Lord Jesus Christ and thus having been made a child of God and received the forgiveness of sins, is commissioned to say to every unsaved person, "Through this man is proclaimed unto you the forgiveness of sins" (1 John ii. 12; John i. 12; Rev. xxii. 16; Acts xiii. 38, 39).

The herald of the Messiah was predicted in Isa. xl. 3; Mal. iii. 1, but in both places in connection with great blessing upon Israel. John said of himself that he was neither the Messiah nor Elijah, but just the voice of which Isaiah had spoken to prepare the way of the Lord (John i. 19-23). Both John and Jesus Christ suffered at the hands of those who should have received them (Matt. xvii. 11-13), so the kingdom that was at hand and would have come if the Messiah had been received did not come and still awaits the return of the King to bless Israel, and not till then shall all flesh see the salvation of God. It is after the Lord shall have comforted Jerusalem, when He shall be reigning in Zion, that all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God (Isa. xlix. 6; iii. 7-10). This is the age of worldwide evangelization that from all nations the elect church may be gathered and prepared to administer with Him as joint heirs the affairs of the kingdom. In every age true repentance must be followed by fruits meet for repentance. We must prove to people by our works the reality of our faith. God reads the heart, but people read the illustrations in our lives. The illustrations in some books are so poor that they do not help the story. It is even so in our lives. "Not every one that saith, 'I love God' but he that doeth," our Lord said. And elsewhere it is written that "faith without works is dead" (Matt. vii. 21; Jas. ii. 20). We are delivered from the wrath to come without any works of ours, but wholly through Jesus, the Son of God, raised from the dead (1 Thess. i. 10). Yet, as a tree is known by its fruit, so the believer should be known by his actions. If we are new creatures in Christ we should walk in newness of life, manifesting the fruit of the Spirit (Rom. vi. 22; Gal. v. 22). The questions of verses 10, 12 and 14, "What shall we do?" remind us of the question in John vi. 28, "What shall we do that we might work the works of God?" Our Lord replied, "This is the work of God, that ye believe on Him whom He hath sent." Thus only can salvation come to any one. Being saved, what then? "Do justly, love mercy and humble thyself to walk with God" (Mic. vi. 8, margin). Show sincerity by love to others as opportunity offers and as God gives the ability. To the people, the publicans, the soldiers, He gave a separate answer suited to their circumstances. We are not to look around and consider what others are doing, but each for himself ask, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" Concerning our looking at or thinking of what others are doing, we need the Lord's word to Peter, "What is that to thee? Follow thou me!" or the word in 1 Thess. iv. 11, "Study to be quiet and to do your own business and to work with your own hands." As the people wondered at John it was his delight to point them away from himself to the one whom he came to announce, of whom he spoke as "one mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose" (verse 16), and of whom he a little later cried, "Behold, the Lamb of God" (John i. 29, 36). Instead of water baptism He would baptize with the Holy Ghost and with fire.

[Copyright, 1911, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.]

The Ministry of John the Baptist. Mark 1:1-8; Luke 3:1-20.

Golden Text.—Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. Matt. iii:2

(1) Verses 1-3—Where are the predictions to which Mark here refers? (See Isa. xl:3; Mal. iii:1.)

(2) What reason is there to think that Isaiah and Malachi had John the Baptist and Jesus in mind when they wrote the words quoted by Mark?

(3) What difference does it make to the potency and truth of Christ's gospel whether Mark was right or wrong in thinking these prophecies applied specifically to John and Jesus?

(4) Verses 4-8—What did John's baptism stand for?

(5) Show from John's teaching what he meant by repentance.

(6) What difference, if any, was there in their standing with God between John's converts and converts today to Christianity?

(7) Luke iii:1-6—What literary and historic excellence can you point out in verses 1 and 2?

(8) Whose son was John, what relation was he to Jesus and what was there of note about his birth and training?

(9) What are the moral equivalents of valleys filled up, mountains leveled down, crooked roads made straight and rough places smooth?

(10) When will the prophecy be fulfilled "All flesh shall see the salvation of God?"

(11) Verses 7-8—Who composed the multitude that came to John to be baptized?

(12) What reason can you give to justify John in using such harsh language to those who came to be baptized?

(13) What effect will any religious ceremony have upon those who are living in sin?

(14) What are the "fruits" of repentance?

(15) If a son persists in living in sin what benefit will a saintly father be to him in getting him into heaven?

(16) Verse 9—What are the influences, already at work, which will culminate in the utter destruction of hypocrites and other hardened sinners? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

(17) Verses 10-14—According to John, how much virtue is there in good works as a means of salvation?

(18) Why should all persons who apply to the church for membership get practically the same instructions as John gave those who applied to him for baptism?

(19) Verses 15-18—What was the difference between John's mission and that of Jesus?

(20) In what sense was John inferior to Jesus, officially, morally, naturally or otherwise?

(21) What is the baptism of the Holy Ghost?

(22) Verses 19-20—What are the facts in connection with Herod's imprisonment of John?

ROOSEVELT PLATFORM HAS BEEN AGREED ON

It Will Be Given Out In Ohio Next Week.

New York, Feb. 16.—At a conference in which Colonel Roosevelt, Governor H. W. Johnson of California, ex-Senator Flynn of Pittsburg, William Nelson of the Kansas City Star, and E. A. Van Valkenburg of the Philadelphia North American took part, the platform upon which Colonel Roosevelt will stand for re-election if he is the presidential choice of the Republican national convention at Chicago, was outlined. The conferees lunched with the colonel and then put in most of the afternoon at the Outlook office, editing the speech which Colonel Roosevelt will make before the Ohio constitutional convention on Feb. 21, and in which he will make a declaration of his progressive policies.

It is just possible that Mr. Roosevelt may fire the opening gun of the progressive-according-to-Roosevelt campaign in the letter in which he will reply to the demand for the conference of progressive governors held last Saturday in Chicago for more light to guide them upon their way, but from what those who talked with Colonel Roosevelt said, it seems probable that the letter to the governors will not be made public until after the Columbus speech.

Colonel Roosevelt would not talk about the conference at which his advisers helped edit the speech. "Wait for the speech," was his only answer to questions about it. He was equally reticent when asked about the opening of Roosevelt headquarters in Washington and the statement of Medill McCormick for the organization.

ARMY SKELETON OUT OF CLOSET

Departmental Jealousies to Be

AINSWORTH UNDER DISCIPLINE

Secretary of War Stimson Puts It Flat to President That Adjutant General Must Go or a New Secretary of War Be Found, and Mr. Taft Issued Orders Relieving Ainsworth Pending Disciplinary Action.

Washington, Feb. 16.—In the form of an order from Secretary Stimson relieving Major General Frederick C. Ainsworth of his duties as adjutant general of the army and directing him to remain in the city awaiting disciplinary measures, the long expected culmination of the Wood-Ainsworth feud in the war department has come.

Orders for the courtmartial of General Ainsworth who, as adjutant general, is the second ranking officer in the army, are expected to be issued within a few days. The charge will be insubordination based on derogatory references to the secretary of war, the chief of staff and officers of the general staff which General Ainsworth incorporated into many of his official reports.

The announcement created a sensation in all official Washington. It is considered certain that the Ainsworth case will develop into the biggest military controversy since the Sampson-Schley affair in the navy. Almost simultaneously with the announcement of the dismissal of General Ainsworth, who has been a power in the army for thirty years, Representative Hobson of Alabama denounced that officer in a speech delivered on the floor of the house during the consideration of the army bill. Representative Hobson declared that General Ainsworth was guilty of conspiracy in taking part in the framing of the Hay bills for the reorganization of the military establishment and inserting in one of them a provision whereby he was to be enabled to retire with the rank of lieutenant general.

The situation in the war department was apparently brought to a head by a memorandum written by General Ainsworth on Feb. 3, though called for last December, on the proposal of the general staff to make changes in the form of the muster roll. In this memorandum, called for by the chief of staff at the direction of the secretary of war, General Ainsworth makes statements that are construed by Secretary Stimson as an attack on himself and the chief of staff and the officers of the general staff. Whereupon Secretary Stimson went to the White House with the matter and made it an issue with President Taft. The president was told that either General Ainsworth must go or a new secretary of war must be found. The president immediately directed that General Ainsworth be relieved and held on waiting orders until disciplinary measures could be decided upon. It was also decided that the adjutant general's office be turned over to Colonel H. P. McCain.

When the president's order had been made public General Ainsworth declined to make any statement whatsoever. Secretary of War Stimson and Major General Wood declined to speak of the case in any way. Entering the army as a doctor Nov. 10, 1874, General Ainsworth has risen to the second highest office in the department.

WELL PLANNED

Was the Holdup by Which New York Bandits Got $25,000.

New York, Feb. 16.—As a taxicab with two bank messengers and a satchel with $25,000—3,000 $5 bills and 1,000 $10 bills—swept into Trinity place from Broadway, five men closed in on it. Three of them got aboard the cab, two of them beating the messenger senseless. The other sat on the seat with the driver, sticking a revolver into his ribs, while the cab dodged vehicles, passed policemen and hundreds of persons busy with their workaday affairs, until the taxi got to Church street and Park place, eleven blocks further on.

Here the driver was made to stop the cab and the three men, carrying the bag with the $25,000, jumped and got away in an auto which had been waiting.

The banquet for the Men's Religion Forward Movement organization at Scottsburg served last night by the ladies of the Christian church. T. J. Gardiner as president, presided at the meeting which was a very interesting one. Four speakers were on the program, Dr. W. O. Goodloe of this city, being one of them. There were 130 men at the banquet.

The last issue of "Cartoons" which reproduces the work of famous cartoonists contained a cartoon by Louis Richards, who is well known here. His cartoons appear regularly in the Columbus Republican and some of his work has appeared in this paper. He is rapidly gaining a reputation for his clever work.

Fifty Years Ago Today. Feb. 16.

Surrender of Fort Donelson to General U. S. Grant by General S. B. Buckner, the Confederate commander. Buckner's superiors, General J. B. Floyd and General G. J. Pillow, escaped before the surrender, which Grant's demand made "unconditional." Buckner declared that he was forced to submit to the "ungenerous and unchivalrous" terms. The Federal losses were 510 killed, 2,152 wounded, 224 captured or missing. The Confederate loss was never definitely declared. General Buckner estimated the number surrendered by him at "not fewer than 12,000 nor more than 15,000."

and obscene literature and the sale of diseased meats and poisoned food could be handled only by the states. But we know that this twentieth century evil can be handled only by the nation, just as those nineteenth century evils could be handled only by the nation."

How to crack hard nuts has always been the passion of Albert Beveridge in public life. Whether it was the insular policy, or statehood, or meat inspection, or child labor, or taking the tariff out of politics, he has never stopped with mere praise of something past or denunciation of something present, but he has worked and studied over the difficult problems of the hour and come forward with a specific policy and a definite remedy. This is a very different thing from the swollen rodomontade some statesmen indulge in about the noble Republican party having solved every problem and being certain to solve every other, actual or possible. It need surprise one if Mr. Beveridge proves to have outlined the future policy of his party today as he has done so many times in the past.—Indianapolis Star.

There seems to be a marked change in the attitude of many citizens toward permanent street improvements. Instead of offering opposition when such improvements are suggested the property owners of several streets are asking that they be made. Considerable work of this kind has already been ordered and the movement seems to be just getting a good start. It is an indication of the growing spirit of progressiveness in the city.

It is really pitiful to note the sorrow and longing depicted occasionally in the faces of a group of the Democratic faithful as they watch a candidate smoking a good cigar and realize that the law does not permit his passing the weeds around.

Joe Kealing, who has been something of a burden to the Taft boom in Indiana, has according to newspaper reports been sent south to do missionary work for the president among the negro delegates. That ought to help some in Indiana.

MAYBE BEVERIDGE IS RIGHT. New occasions teach new duties, time makes ancient good uncouth, They must upward still and onward who would keep abreast of truth. This Western tour of former Senator Beveridge is not more remarkable for the cordial reception he receives everywhere as a Republican leader than for the vigorous words he speaks in behalf of progress in the party's councils. It is true, as he said at Denver, that "Abraham Lincoln was proud to remember that Washington made Cornwallis surrender at Yorktown, but Lincoln was anxious to see Grant make Lee surrender at Appomattox." And truer word was never uttered than the assertion: "To continue to be the party of Lincoln, our party actively must do the work we find before us instead of idly praising the work our fathers found before them, but which is now behind us."

When we remember how many undertakings of the Republican party owe their initiative to Mr. Beveridge, it is certainly worth while to study what he says today about the newer problems. Of the trusts he says: "End the wrongs of organized capital, but do not try to end organized capital itself. It can't be done."

Of the tariff he says: "Honest protection is necessary to our people's well-being; but it is even more necessary that our tariff shall be made steady and its changes natural instead of being uncertain and its changes volcanic."

Of the great human problems like child labor he says: "The defenders of child labor say that it can be handled only by the states, just as they said that slavery and lottery tickets

S.S.S. NATURE'S CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

The conditions and causes which produce Rheumatism all suggest a healthful vegetable remedy as the surest and safest cure. The disease is brought about by the accumulation of uric acid, an irritating, pain-producing property in the blood. This causes a weakening and souring of the circulation which then becomes unfit for nourishing the body, while the deposits of uric acid in the nerves, muscles, joints and bones produce the pain and agony of Rheumatism. To treat the trouble with medicines containing potash or other strong minerals, is simply adding another poison to the already weak, diseased blood, sapping it of its remaining vitality, and perhaps in the end making a physical wreck of the sufferer. The one safe and only cure for Rheumatism is S. S. S. It is nature's remedy for this disease, made entirely from healthful vegetable ingredients extracted from the roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. S. S. S. goes down into the blood and removes every trace of the cause of Rheumatism, cleanses and purifies the circulation, and restores health and comfort to those who are suffering from this painful disease. There is but one way to be sure you are not dosing your system with mineral medicines, and that is to take S. S. S. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

"THE WORLD IN CINCINNATI"

Great Missionary Exposition Planned for Queen City will be a Memorable Event.

SCENES FROM HEATHEN LANDS

Will Be Erected at Music Hall From March 9th to April 6th, To Be Conducted on Mammoth Scale By Experienced People.

One can not realize until he has seen it the tremendous scope of an Exposition such as "The World in Cincinnati" will be. It will be constructed on a mammoth scale, like the Ohio Valley Exposition, and will be entirely devoted to missions. It will be indeed a World's Exposition, for the ends of the earth will be represented in a most striking way. No ordinary exposition ever held in America will present so many unique and attractive features as are planned for this one. There is no finer building in America for such an enterprise than Music Hall. The whole of this great building will be utilized, including the splendid auditorium, the annexes and all subsidiary halls and spaces. Something is being planned for every nook and corner of the great building. The hundreds of thousands who attend will be astonished at the scale on which missions, both home and foreign, will be presented.

Things You Will See.

Will people in large numbers attend such an Exposition? Most assuredly. The attendance in Boston last spring totaled close to 375,000, and went as high as 35,000 on a single day. There will be far more to draw and interest the people than has ever been presented in an Exposition in Cincinnati. The Ohio Valley Exposition drew great crowds. Its interest was almost entirely local. "The World in Cincinnati" will converge in Music Hall the life and problems of the world. It will not simply appeal to those interested in missions, but to all.

Dispensary Scene, Medical Mission Section, "The World in Cincinnati."

Perhaps you have been in Chinatown, in New York or San Francisco, and you have wondered what a street in a real Chinese city would look like. Here you will have it. A Chinese street will be reproduced, with its joss house, its apothecary shop, its Chinese houses, and its variegated street life. In the midst of it will be a Chinese pagoda. In this street you will see men, women, and children dressed in Chinese costume and so trained that you will almost imagine you have been transported to Peking or Canton.

You have perhaps heard of an East India "bazaar," and have wondered what it was like. Come to the Exposition and you will see one in operation, with all the things which make such a place of such vital interest in the Far East. You have heard much of the Zenanas of India. They are the secluded homes of India, where the women live the lives of prisoners. If you were in India and a man you could never hope to see the inside of one. In the Exposition you can see one as it is and study it at your leisure.

The Korean houses will be a constant source of interest to you. You will visit a Japanese home and will witness native tea parties and the odd customs of the people as they greet each other and go through their courteous genuflections. You will see scenes enacted from Burma and the Philippines. An African village will be reproduced, and you will see real idols from India and other lands. Medical missions will be reproduced in a model hospital, and you will see the missionary illustrating his work of healing with living objects. Much space will be given to the North American Indians. A delegation of real Indians may be present from the Government School and will have a part in the daily program.

EXPOSITION RESTAURANT.

There will be a well-equipped restaurant at "The World in Cincinnati" exposition, to be given at Music Hall, March 9 to April 6. It will be under the direction and management of those who have had experience in providing for large numbers of people. It will probably be located at one end of the "Hall of the Home Land." Visitors from out of town will find it to their advantage, especially, to remember that they may obtain their luncheon or dinner at a first-class restaurant, paying moderate prices, without leaving the exposition.

PLANS FOR CHILDREN

Great Exposition Will Welcome the Boys and Girls.

Many Special Features for Them, as Well as Reduced Prices of Admission.

One of the purposes, it may almost be said the main purpose, for which "The World in Cincinnati" exposition, to be open in Music Hall, Cincinnati, from March 9 to April 6, was organized was to interest Boys and Girls in Missionary work at home and abroad, and to inspire them for Missionary service. The promoters are making arrangements to welcome boys and girls of all Churches, and no Churches, to admit them at greatly reduced rates, and to engage specially qualified Stewards and speakers for them. The Children will find every part of the Exposition full of things which will appeal to their understanding and interest, and the games and other occupations of children in all countries will be illustrated continuously by actual reproduction.

Boys and girls of fourteen years of age and under will be admitted to the Exposition at reduced prices at any time. For such the single admission ticket of 25 cents is reduced to 15 cents.

ARMY OF VOLUNTEERS

Great Exposition Has Enlisted Fourteen Thousand Workers

Two Hundred Churches Are Co-Operating to Make Success of "World in Cincinnati."

A total of about 14,000 volunteer workers have been enrolled for "The World in Cincinnati" Missionary Exposition, which will be open in Music Hall March 9 to April 6. The names of this army of people have been received from more than 200 churches of Cincinnati and vicinity.

The workers are divided into several classes. There are more than 5,000 stewards, men and women, both young and old, who will serve in relays and populate the various scenes and sections of the Exposition, explaining to visitors everything that may be seen. Most of these stewards will wear the costume of the country to which they have been assigned. There are nearly 5,000 Pageant workers also. About half of the Pageant workers are members of the grand choir. They will sing the splendid choruses of the Pageant of Darkness and Light, wearing a suitable costume and occupying seats in the Pageant hall outside of the proscenium arch. The other half of the Pageant workers take the parts of the people of various foreign lands upon the platform, impersonating American Indians, Eskimos, natives of Africa, people of India and Hawaiians.

There will be at least 1,000 ushers, all men, who will act as guides, doorkeepers and in other ways keep the crowds moving. In all about 2,500 children will be required. Several hundred of these will be trained to play the games which the children of foreign lands play, and this they will do in the different foreign scenes of the Exposition, thus illustrating the child life of non-Christian lands. All will wear appropriate costumes.

Besides these three groups of children, all of whom are to have work to do in the Exposition proper, between 1,500 and 2,000 are being enrolled to take part in the great final episode of the Pageant of Darkness and Light. They will march in a procession down one of the aisles of the Pageant Hall to the platform, where, with all of the other Pageant participants, they will form a part of the great closing tableau.

NOT FOR PRIVATE PROFIT.

The cost of the Exposition will be in the neighborhood of $85,000, and it has been financed by a group of wealthy men in Cincinnati, who have advanced the funds required to pay all bills promptly as they become due. This group of men includes some of the most prominent citizens of Cincinnati. It is expected the Exposition will not only pay its running expenses, but enable the men who subscribed to the guarantee fund to be repaid with interest at 6 per cent per annum on the sums which they have advanced. Should a profit remain, it will be turned over to the Missionary Education Movement for the furtherance of missionary education.

THE PAGEANT TO BE SPECTACULAR

Historic Feature of "World in Cincinnati" to be Impressive and Instructive.

OUTLINE OF THE FIVE EPISODES

Many of the Thrilling and Dramatic Incidents of the History of Missions Will Be Re-enacted by Players at Exposition.

The Pageant of Darkness and Light is to be the most spectacular feature of the great Missionary Exposition, "The World in Cincinnati," at Music Hall, March 9 to April 6. The purpose of the pageant is to set forth the great historical events of missionary effort in an instructive and inspiring way.

It will be probably the greatest spectacular presentation Cincinnati has ever seen. In four of the five episodes, from 150 to 200 people will be on the platform. More than 3,000 persons, volunteers, are being trained for the Pageant. There will be 1,500 in the grand choir alone and another 1,500 for the platform are to serve in relays on different days. More than 1,000 children will take part also. The costumes and splendid scenery used at the first presentation of the Pageant in London, England, have been brought to Cincinnati for its production.

The five scenes which constitute the Pageant may be briefly summarized as follows:

Episode I.—The North.

The scene represents an Indian camp in the far Northwest. The chief and his wife are in distress at the loss of their little daughter, who strayed from the line of march three days ago. To the camp comes a band of Eskimos for trading purposes. The medicine-man incites the braves to kill them. Just as they are about to do so a missionary enters. He brings the chief's little daughter, whom he found straying in the woods. Thus he gains the chief's good will and a hearing for his message.

Episode II.—The South.

The scene is in the outskirts of Ujiji, where Livingstone is resting for a while after long journeyings. His men are building a mission house. During mid-day rest Livingstone is full of thoughts of home. A runner comes panting in with news of the coming of a white man. Then Stanley enters. He begs Livingstone to return with him. Livingstone's men hang upon his words. He is sorely tempted, but—no, he can not go until his work is done.

Episode III.—The East.

Scene I. is in a city in India. A crowd surrounds the missionaries' house, clamoring for the return to her relatives of a child-wife, whom they have been educating. The child flees down the street, the relatives follow, capture her, and return in triumph. In Scene II, a native procession is going to a temple. There enters a funeral procession, leading a young woman to the funeral pyre of her husband. Just as the pyre is to be lighted the Government official strides in with a proclamation doing away with the "suttee," as the rite of widow burning was called.

Episode IV.—The West.

The scene is a coral beach in Hawaii. Behind is the volcano Kilauea. A wedding group is disporting in the sunshine. The volcano roars. One recalls the fact that when Pele, the Goddess of the lake of fire, is angered, she sends her priest to claim victims to appease her wrath. The priest is seen on the mountain-side. He claims the bridegroom, and a child playing unconsciously among the flowers. As he is about to lead them to their doom, Queen Papihānā appears and defies Pele. The priest curses her. She bids him lead her to the crater, and there—after the fashion of Elijah on Carmel—she taunts and defies the goddess, and breaks the power of Pele forever.

Episode V.—The Final Procession.

Singing a grand procession, the great choir, and all who have taken part in the previous episodes, march in four different processions down the aisles of the Pageant Hall, forming in a tableau on the platform around a cross, and all bearing golden palm branches. The closing chorus is sung and at a signal from the drums of the orchestra of 30 pieces, the entire audience rise and sing the long metre doxology.

The Pageant in Cincinnati.

This Pageant is to be reproduced for the second time in America, in the auditorium of the Music Hall, every afternoon and evening, from March 9th to April 6th. This building is admirably adapted to it, more so than either of those in which it has been given before.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Elam Harnish, known all through Alaska as "Burning Daylight," celebrates his 30th birthday with a friendly crowd of miners at the Circle City Tivoli. He is a general favorite, a hero and a pioneer in the new gold fields. The dance leads to heavy gambling in which over $100,000 is staked. Harnish loses his money and his mine but wins the mail contract of the district.

CHAPTER II.—Burning Daylight starts on his trip to deliver the mail with dogs and sledges. He tells his friends that the big Yukon gold strike will soon be on and he intends to be in it at the start. With Indian attendants and dogs he dips over the bank and down the frozen Yukon and in the gray light is gone.

CHAPTER III.—Harnish makes a sensationally rapid run across country with the mail, appears at the Tivoli and there is another characteristic celebration. He has made a record against cold and exhaustion and is now ready to join his friends in a dash to the new gold fields.

CHAPTER IV.—Harnish decides where the gold will be found in the up-river district and buys two tons of flour, which he declares will be worth its weight in gold before the season is over.

CHAPTER V.—When Daylight arrives with his heavy outfit of flour he finds the big flat desolate. A comrade discovers gold and Harnish reaps a rich harvest. He goes to Dawson, begins investing in corner lots and staking other miners and becomes the most prominent figure in the Klondike.

CHAPTER VI.—Harnish makes fortune after fortune. One day he invents a machine that enables him to defeat a great combination of capitalists in a vast mining deal. He determines to return to civilization and gives a farewell celebration to his friends. This is remembered as a kind of blaze of glory.

CHAPTER VII.

In no blaze of glory did Burning Daylight descend upon San Francisco. Not only had he been forgotten, but the Klondike along with him. The world was interested in other things, and the Alaskan adventure, like the Spanish War, was an old story. He settled down in St. Francis Hotel, was interviewed by the cub-reporters on the hotel-run, and received brief paragraphs of notice for twenty-four hours.

Several months passed in San Francisco, during which time he studied the game and its rules, and prepared himself to take a hand.

Tiring of being merely an onlooker, he ran up to Nevada, where the new gold-mining boom was fairly started—"just to try a flutter," as he phrased it to himself. The flutter on the Tonopah Stock Exchange lasted just ten days, during which time his smashing, wild-bull game played ducks and drakes with the more stereotyped gamblers, and at the end of which time, having gambled Florida into his fist, he let go for a net profit of half a million. Whereupon, smacking his lips, he departed for San Francisco and the St. Francis Hotel. It tasted good, and his hunger for the game became more acute.

And once more the papers sensationalized him. BURNING DAYLIGHT was a big-letter headline again. Interviewers flocked about him. Old files of magazines and newspapers were searched through, and the romantic and historic Elam Harnish, Adventurer of the Frost, King of the Klondike, and Father of the Sour-doughs, strode upon the breakfast table of a million homes along with the toast and breakfast foods. Even before his elected time, he was forcibly launched into the game. Financiers and promoters, and all the flotsam and jetsam of the sea of speculation surged upon the shores of his eleven millions. In self-defence he was compelled to open offices. He dabbled in little things at first—"stalling for time," as he explained it to Holdsworth, a friend he had made at the Alta-Pacific Club. Daylight himself was a member of the club, and Holdsworth had proposed him. And it was well that Daylight played closely at first, for he was astounded by the multitudes of sharks—"ground-sharks," he called them—that flocked about him. He saw through their schemes readily enough, and even marveled that such numbers of them could find sufficient prey to keep them going. Their rascality and general dubiousness was so transparent that he could not understand how any one could be taken in by them.

So it was that he resolved to leave the little men, the Holdsworths, alone; and, while he met them in good fellowship, he chummed with none, and formed no deep friendships. He did not dislike the little men, the men of the Alta-Pacific, for instance. He merely did not elect to choose them for partners in the big game in which he intended to play. What this big game was, even he did not know. He was waiting to find it. And in the meantime he played small hands, investing in several arid-lands reclamation projects and keeping his eyes open for the big chance when it should come along.

And then he met John Dowsett, the great John Dowsett. It was the first big magnate Daylight had met face to face, and he was pleased and charmed. There was such a kindly humanness about the man, such a genial democraticness, that Daylight found it hard to realize that this was the John Dowsett, president of a string of banks, insurance manipulator, reputed ally of the lieutenants of Standard Oil, and known ally of the Guggenhammers. Nor did his looks belie his reputation and his manner. Physically, he guaranteed all that Daylight knew of him. Despite his sixty years and snow-white hair, his hand-shake was firmly hearty, and he showed no signs of decrepitude, walking with a quick, snappy step, making all movements definitely and decisively.

It was not long afterward that Daylight came on to New York. A letter from John Dowsett had been the cause—a simple little typewritten letter of several lines. But Daylight had thrilled as he read it. The bald sentences seemed gorged with mystery. "Our Mr. Howison will call upon you at your hotel. He is to be trusted. We must not be seen together. You will understand after we have had our talk." Daylight conned the words over and over. That was it. The big game had arrived, and it looked as if he were being invited to sit in and take a hand. Surely, for no other reason would one man so peremptorily invite another man to make a journey across the continent.

They met—thanks to "our" Mr. Howison—up the Hudson, in a magnificent country home. Daylight, according to instructions, arrived in a private motor car which had been furnished him. Dowsett was already there, and another man whom Daylight recognized before the introduction was begun. It was Nathaniel Letton, and none other. Daylight had seen his face a score of times in the magazines and newspapers, and read about his standing in the financial world, and about his endowed University of

"I Must Say, Mr. Harnish, That You Whipped Us Roundly in That Affair."

Daratona. He, likewise, struck Daylight as a man of power, though he was puzzled in that he could find no likeness to Dowsett. Except in the matter of cleanness—a cleanness that seemed to go down to the deepest fibers of him—Nathaniel Letton was unlike the other in every particular. Thin to emaciation, he seemed a cold flame of a man. Not more than fifty, thatched with a sparse growth of iron-gray hair, he looked several times the age of Dowsett.

They drank—that is, Nathaniel Letton took mineral water served by the smoothly operating machine of a lackey who inhabited the place, while Dowsett took Scotch and soda and Daylight a cocktail. Leon Guggenhammer arrived in the midst of the drink, and ordered Scotch. Daylight studied him curiously. This was one of the great Guggenhammer family, a younger one, but nevertheless one of the crowd with which he had locked grapples in the North. Nor did Leon Guggenhammer fail to mention cognizance of that old affair. He complimented Daylight on his prowess—"The echoes of Ophir came down to us, you know. And I must say, Mr. Daylight—er, Mr. Harnish, that you whipped us roundly in that affair."

Leon Guggenhammer was young and fat. Not a day more than thirty, his face, save for the adumbrated puff sacks under the eyes, was as smooth and lineless as a boy's. The talk soon centered down to business. Dowsett broached the plan, aided by an occasional remark from the other two, while Daylight asked questions. Whatever the proposition was, he was going into it with his eyes open. And they filled his eyes with the practical vision of what he had in mind.

"They will never dream you are with us," Guggenhammer interjected, as the outlining of the matter drew to a close, his handsome Jewish eyes flashing enthusiastically. "They'll think you are raiding on your own in proper buccaneer style."

"Of course, you understand, Mr. Harnish, the absolute need for keeping our alliance in the dark," Nathaniel Letton warned, gravely.

Daylight nodded his head. "And you also understand," Letton went on, "that the result can only be productive of good. The thing is legitimate and right, and the only ones who may be hurt are the stock gamblers themselves. It is not an attempt to smash the market. As you see yourself, you are to bull the market. The honest investor will be the gainer." "Yes, that's the very thing," Dowsett said. "The commercial need for copper is continually increasing. Ward Valley Copper, and all that it stands for—practically one-quarter of the world's supply, as I have shown you—is a big thing, how big, even we can scarcely estimate. Our arrangements are made. We have plenty of capital ourselves, and yet we want more. Also, there is too much Ward Valley out to sift our present plans. Thus we kill both birds with one stone. Not only will you bull Ward Valley, but you will at the same time gather Ward Valley in. This will be of inestimable advantage to us, while you and all of us will profit by it as well. And as Mr. Letton has pointed out, the thing is legitimate and square. On the eighteenth the directors meet, and, instead of the customary dividend, a double dividend will be declared."

"There will be all sorts of rumors on the street," Dowsett warned Daylight, "but do not let them frighten you. These rumors may even originate with us. You can see how and why clearly. But rumors are to be no concern of yours. You are on the inside. All you have to do is buy, buy, buy, and keep on buying to the last stroke, when the directors declare the double dividend. Ward Valley will jump so that it won't be feasible to buy after that."

"And one other thing, Mr. Harnish," Guggenhammer said, "if you exceed your available cash, or the amount you care to invest in the venture, don't fail immediately to call on us. Remember, we are behind you."

"Yes, we are behind you," Dowsett repeated.

Nathaniel Letton nodded his head in affirmation.

A WORD WITH WOMEN.

Valuable Advice for Seymour Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of back-ache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." When the kidneys get congested and inflamed, there are many aches and pains and the whole body suffers.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. They can't get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought sound backs and new life and strength to thousands of suffering women. They are endorsed by thousands—endorsed at home—Read this Seymour woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. George Cozine, 24 Mill St., Seymour, Ind., says: "My back is a great deal better since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and the pain across my kidneys has disappeared. My kidneys have also become normal and the other symptoms of kidney complaint have disappeared. I consider it no more than my duty to advise other persons afflicted with kidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

ACETYLENE LET GO

Home of Wealthy Farmer Destroyed and Two Women Injured.

Delphi, Ind., Feb. 16.—An acetylene gas generator at the home of John W. Kerlin, county commissioner, and a wealthy farmer living at Rockfield, exploded, wrecking the building which was later destroyed by fire.

Mr. Kerlin was in the basement, and, seeing the plant was not working right, called to his wife and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Minerva McDowell, to run from the house.

Before they could leave the explosion occurred, tearing out the interior of the house, and throwing Mrs. Kerlin, who was in the library on the first floor, and Mrs. McDowell, who was on the second floor, to the basement. Mrs. Kerlin had both legs and an arm broken. Mrs. McDowell was cut about the face, and received serious injuries about her head. Mr. Kerlin was uninjured.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FOREIGN SECRETARY UPHELD

Sir Edward Grey's Anglo-German Negotiations Approved and His Resignation Not Tendered.

London.—Those well-informed in British state affairs say that it was the intention of Sir Edward Grey, Great Britain's foreign secretary, to resign his post unless supported in his Anglo-German negotiations. His statement on the subject, which was submitted to parliament recently was approved, and the crisis safely passed. Sir Edward has been secretary of state for foreign affairs since 1905.

Irish nationalists are playing a waiting game in parliament. Members of the usually turbulent little band which sits below the gangway of the house of commons have kept themselves in hand so far, although they are deeply interested in the insurance bill which is occupying all the time of the house.

William O'Brien and his handful of followers sometimes try to excite their fellow countrymen by engaging in sarcasm at their expense, but without success. The nationalist benches are quietly waiting for 1912, "Ireland's year," as they call it.

While the rankers of the nationalist party are doing missionary work in the lobby, the leader, John Redmond, is busy explaining home rule to the people of England. Mr. Redmond's campaign already has extended from Scotland in the north to the extreme south of England. The colonial secretary, Lewis Harcourt, accompanied him in the midlands, and at other places ministers and liberal leaders have sat with him on the platform.

Press reports of the meetings record very few interruptions of the Irish leader.

Mr. Redmond and other Irish members impress upon their audiences that what Ireland demands is not separation, but "the right of managing its own affairs in a subordinate place, subject to the supremacy of the imperial parliament, a demand that never has been made by any community of white men in the empire and refused except in the case of Ireland."

GIANT ROCK LIKE A SPIRE

Curecanti Needle in Black Canyon Rises to a Height of 1,600 Feet Above Surroundings.

Gunnison, Colo.—An enormous splinter of rock, the Curecanti needle, is an isolated mountain spire rising to the height of 1,600 feet above the Black canyon of the Gunnison in Colorado. The Gunnison canyon is deemed equal in natural beauty to that of the Royal gorge.

The Gunnison river dashes through this wild canyon with such impetuosity that it is beaten to foam amidst the ragged bowlders. The canyon walls are pleasingly colored and are constantly opening and closing to the view. Chipeta falls dashes down a lofty wall and the tremendous splinter of the Curecanti needle pierces to the clouds. It is a region of wild and rugged beauty.

Four-Year-Old Firebug.

Chicago.—Arrested, charged with starting a fire in an alley, a four-year-old "miscreant" told the sergeant the 300-pound policeman who made the pinch was "a big story-teller" and was released.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of those ingredients, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Seymour only at our store—The Rexall Store. Think Corn Is Going Up.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 16.—Notwithstanding the market price of corn here is but 60 cents per bushel, it has sold at recent public sales in the county as high as 82 cents per bushel. Most of the farmers who have corn are holding it for $1 per bushel and there is but little moving in the county. There are many farmers whose supply of corn has run out and they are buying for their stock.

THE DEATH RATE IN G. A. R. RANKS

Official Report Shows Its Gradual Increase.

IS BECOMING MORE MARKED

In His Semi-Annual Report, Colonel Fesler Points Out Heavier Death Rate Among Indiana Veterans of the Civil War in Recent Years, and Makes Observation That This Rate of Increase Is More Marked.

Indianapolis, Feb. 16.—The death rate among the Indiana veterans of the civil war has increased 2.03 per cent during the six years he has been in office, according to figures compiled by Colonel John R. Fesler, assistant adjutant general and quartermaster of the department of Indiana, G. A. R. Colonel Fesler has just completed his twelfth semi-annual report to the department commander, which covers the period ending Dec. 1, 1911.

The report for 1906, the first year Colonel Fesler was in office, showed the number of veterans enrolled in the G. A. R. posts was 14,309. The deaths among members that year numbered 509, a rate of 3.56 per cent of the entire membership. In 1911, the membership was 12,700, and the deaths numbered 711, making a rate of 5.59 per cent of the membership.

"When I went into office," said Colonel Fesler, "it was estimated that about one-half the veterans in the state were members of Grand Army posts, and that percentage has held about even. We have no records of deaths among the veterans outside our membership, but it is safe to assume the rate has been about the same. The rate will no doubt increase much more rapidly during the next six years, because of the increasing age of the veterans."

The semi-annual report just completed shows there were 352 posts in active operation on Dec. 31.
